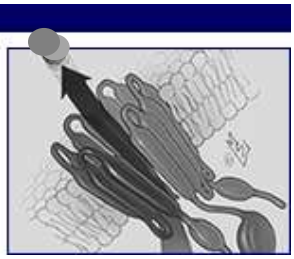
AHEAD OF THE CURVE
EMERGING CF THERAPIES 2009



Conference Goals & Introduction - Peter Mogayzel, Jr., MD, PhD

Learning Objectives:

1. Summarize the goals of the seminar.

2. Illustrate the perceived knowledge gaps that identify the need for this seminar.

3. Compare the results of the knowledge assessments.

Abstract:

This seminar is not about what you do now, these are a series of talks about what is going to happen in the future, in the not too distant future. The conference goals are really to engage in a learning experience so that you can understand some of the therapeutic targets of research, and to integrate information about emerging therapies.
This program is provided by an unrestricted grant from Vertex Pharmaceuticals, providing the money to do this program, but it has been created independently with no input from Vertex and no input on the presentation at all. Additionally, it has been vigorously vetted by the Johns Hopkins CME Department and the content has been peer reviewed to insure the program is free of commercial bias.
